Judy Turner of Abbotsford, BC, has been involved in equestrian sport since the age of 11. She started out in the western disciplines before connecting with dressage in adulthood. In 1996, Judy began judging at recognized dressage shows and horse trials throughout western Canada. She now holds EC certification as a Medium Dressage Judge, Para-Dressage Judge and Level 1 Eventing Judge.

Judy's favourite aspect of judging is watching the progression of riders and horses through the levels, as well as meeting and getting to know the riders and her fellow judges.

Additionally, Judy volunteers her time as a scribe for local competitions and has been involved with local equestrian clubs and CADORA BC, where she worked on committees organizing dressage competitions. She currently serves as Treasurer for Dressage BC. Judy also holds a Master of Nursing degree, and recently retired from a full-time career as a post-secondary nursing instructor. She continues to teach courses online.
